

Ordering is as simple as 1...2...3

1 Sign your name several times on a blank piece of paper.

A liquid ink pen like a roller ball or fine line plastic tip pen works very well. Ballpoint pens tend to skip and do not generate as good an image. Felt tip pens may make the signature too bold. (If you are ordering a signature for a DOS application, be sure to make your signature the same size you want it to be.)

2

Indicate which signatures you want with a check mark.

Put a check mark next to the signatures you want. Do not cross into the signature itself. Print the person's name on the page. This will be the font name.

Signature Signing Form

This page is provided as a guideline for signing your signature. By fitting your signature(s) within a box, your signature will be a somewhat normal size which will produce the best quality digitized signatures.

DO NOT SIGN on this page. Place a blank piece of paper on top of this page and sign on the blank page. Or turn this sheet over and sign on the blank side. If you sign on this side of the page and your signature crosses into the lines, it will affect the final quality of your signature files.

You only need to sign once, but many people prefer to sign several times and choose the one they like the best. If you sign more than once, please put a check mark or arrow next to the signature you would like us to use.
